1 Mix It Up

Viking Professional's seven-quart mixer packs a 1,000-watt wallop into a sleek enameled-stainless-steel package. Besides fire-engine red, the mixer, which sells for around $500, comes in five other colors and an 800-watt five-quart version. Call 888-VIKING-1; vikingrange.com.

2 Line Drive

The CJ wing chair marks New York designer Carl Dellatore's foray into fabrics and furniture. Shown in espresso-and-peony grosgrain ribbons stitched to a background of Belgian linen, it also comes in nine other color combinations. Sold to the trade only; call 212-352-0160.

3 Bright Idea

Manuel Canovas's new Tanjore bedding collection updates an 18th-century Persian tapestry with vivid colors like pink, coral, and melon. Shown are a sham and flat sheet and an arabesque-pattern fitted sheet. Prices range from $35 for a standard pillowcase to $355 for a king-size duvet cover. At Gracious Home; call 800-338-7809.

4 Tidal Pull

Soeurs, a Los Angeles–based design team, transforms lacquered coral into drawer handles that glow with tropical intensity. Each measures 2.5" to 3.5" long, is backed with brass-plated hardware, and costs $40. Call 323-655-3830 or go to soeurs.la.
